Marly Marques was born in Luxembourg into a Portuguese family. In 2011, she met four skilled jazzmen and they happened to really hit it off, Luxembourg being a very favorable country for happy (and improbable!) encounters. Since then, they performed not only in Luxembourg's important jazz venues, such as the Neumünster Abbey, the Philharmonie, the Blues & Jazz Rally, the Like a Jazz Machine festival in Dudelange and the Atelier as an opener for Stacey Kent and at the Wiltz Festival as an opener for Cécile McLorin Salvant, but also abroad, for example at the Casa da Música in Porto, the Kriol Jazz Festival in Cape Verde, the Al Bustan Jazz Festival Lebanon, the b-flat in Berlin, and in France, at the Nancy Jazz Pulsations, the Jazz Night in Portes-les-Valence, the Jazz Festival in Nord in Lille, the Jazzpote festival in Thionville, the festival Jazzy Colors in Paris and at the Dominicains in Guebwiller

In 2014, they won the 1st prize at the Crest Jazz Vocal Festival competition.

Marly Marques 5tet's first album "Só ar ser" was recorded in Germany and has been released in May 2014.
